Citizen Says the Two Officers Were on a Drunk.

And the Officers Declare it Was the Citizen Who Had on the Jag.

POLICE BOARD TO INVESTIGATE

The board of fire and police commissioners have their first nut to crack. The formal charges of drunkenness were preferred against Officers Buck Whitehurst and Enoch Linn, and Chief Collins said they would be suspended until Monday evening, when the board of commissioners will investigate the charges against them.

The charges were preferred to Captain Henry Bailey last night by Mr. W. A. Dishon, the sign writer, of Trimble street, near Twelfth. He alleged that his family went to the circus, and when they returned learned that some one had entered the house during their absence and turned things upside down in their search for something valuable.

When Mr. Dishon came home from work and it was reported to him, he went to the circus ground and notified Officer Linn, who was not on duty, but was watching about the grounds, and went to the house and looked over it. Mr. Dishon says the officer was too drunk to afford any assistance and he then went after Officer Whitehurst.

He finally accused the latter of being drunk also, and Officer Whitehurst denied the charge, and as might have been expected on such an occasion hot words passed, and the two men had a fight near the front gate. Mr. Dishon was clubbed by the officer, and claims that the officer, after being handed his pistol, which he had dropped, pointed it at him and ordered him to be quiet, which he did without further persuasion. An ugly gash was evident and his clothes were bloody when he appeared at the police station and reported the matter.

The officers tell an entirely different story. Officer Linn said that all there was to the affair was that he was notified by Mr. Dishon that his house had been broken into, and went with him to see it. Mr. Dishon first pointed to a door and said: "See how they smashed that in." The officer declares there was nothing the matter with the door, and there was not a crack in it.

Mr. Dishon claims that his house had been ransacked, but missed nothing. The officer says he saw nothing remarkable, and it looked to him as if the house probably hadn't been cleaned up, and that was all. He said as there was nothing stolen, so far as known, and no clue, he informed Mr. Dishon that nothing could be done and that he was detailed to remain about the circus grounds and would have to return to his duties. This made Mr. Dishon mad and he accused the officer of being drunk. Mr. Linn says Mr. Dishon himself was drunk.

Officer Whitehurst was then summoned by Mr. Dishon, and like Officer Linn, being unable to see any remarkable traces of thieves, and learning that nothing had been missed, he started to leave, whereupon he, too, was accused of being "drunk like the other officer." He informed Mr. Dishon that if he said he, Mr. Whitehurst, was drunk, he was a liar. Mr. Dishon said if he said he wasn't drunk, he was several things that would not look well in print, and then they mixed. The two officers go on duty at midnight and work until noon, and will not be laid off until 12 o'clock tonight.

The whole affair in a nutshell is that Mr. Dishon claims the officers were drunk and they claim that Mr. Dishon was drunk, and the police board will have to hear the evidence and decide who is right.

MASONS TO LEAVE.

The Mary Stewart, with a crowd of local Masons, will leave this evening about 8 o'clock for Smithland, where a Masonic meeting is to be held, and a host of Masons from various surrounding cities entertained. About forty or more are expected to go with the local delegation.

Spot Polk was Given a Life Sentence in Circuit Court Today.

He Confessed to Killing George Gray Last April—First Case on Record.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Spot Polk, colored, pleaded guilty to the murder of George Gray in circuit court this morning, and was given a life term in the Eddyville penitentiary. It is the first case on record in the McCracken circuit court where a person pleaded guilty to murder.

Lonnie Faqus, colored, is in jail charged with complicity in the killing. Polk shot George Gray April 14, in front of Bennett's saloon at Ninth and Boyd streets, it is alleged because he claimed Gray owed him some money, and wouldn't pay it. After the shooting he escaped, and Gray died a few days later. Faqus is alleged to have been with him and held Gray.

Polk remained at large for several months, but was finally located in Chicago by Captain Henry Bailey, of the police force, and Lieut. Moore was sent for him after the Chicago police had located and arrested him.

Polk expressed a desire to plead guilty several days ago but had no opportunity to until this morning.

In the case of W. B. Weeks, guardian, against Mabel C. Weeks and others, a verdict for the sale of land was returned.

Mrs. Lillian M. White was granted a divorce from W. H. G. White, and restored to her maiden name, Lillian Haggard.

Lottie Hamilton, colored, for obtaining money by false pretenses, was given one year on a confession of guilt.

Gus Burgois was this morning cleared of the charge of grand larceny after having been before the court for two terms.

Burgois and a companion named Ed Jones and Fannie Wilson were arrested before the last term of circuit court. A Central City man named Frank Patterson brought the charges. He claimed that $236 was taken from him while he was drunk. Jones was acquitted of the charge and this morning Burgois was acquitted, and the case against Fannie Wilson was dismissed. All three, Burgois, Jones and the woman, came here from Cairo.

Ed Mayberry, colored, who stole $30 from D. A. McKinnon during the carnival pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

The time of the grand jury was extended one week and court adjourned for the remainder of the day.

AT AN END.

ONE OF THE COAL STRIKES IS VIRTUALLY OVER NOW.

Charleston, West Va., Sept. 6—The coal miners strike which has been in progress in the Kanawha and New River fields since June 7 and involving 10,000 men, is practically at an end. Each local union is instructed to go back to work on the best possible terms without regard to the action of any other union.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Baker are parents of a boy baby, born this afternoon, which makes Colonel J. R. Lemon a grandfather.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RUNS A BIG EXCURSION TO ST. LOUIS.

There were about 176 excursionists out of Paducah who took the $2 excursion rate to St. Louis this morning.

The train was three coaches long, and all available seating space was taken and many had to stand. The time limit for the return is 11 o'clock Sunday night, and excursionists will have one day and night to spend in St. Louis.

WON A RACE YESTERDAY.

Information has been received that Mr. Ed Farley, Jr., of Paducah, owner of the pacer George Star, won a $200 purse in three straight heats at Princeton, Ind., yesterday afternoon, time 2:15. His horse is said to be a most promising one and his many friends here will be pleased to know of his success.

IT IS A FACT

That the money goes, we know not how. It is also a fact that a savings fund grows in a most surprising manner. Save a little money every day and put it in a bank at interest and you will be agreeably surprised at the way the pile will grow. Now the best way to save money and form the habit is to get one of our Home Savings banks and it comes easy.

Try it for a few months and see if we are not correct.

HIT THE SHOW BOAT

The Floating Palace Recently Here Wrecked at Grand Tower, Ill.

The Big Peter Sprague Struck the E. and H. Boat and Wrecked it.

A PANIC ENSUED ABOARD

The Eisenbarth and Henderson floating showboat, which was in Paducah several days ago, was wrecked at Grand Tower, Ill., by the monster towboat Peter Sprague, just completed at a cost of $250,000.

The big steamer was on her way from Dubuque, Ia., to Cairo to be fitted out, and while at Grand Tower the big boat hit the show boat damaging it, a portion of it being shoved onto the bank, while the remainder rests beneath the water. It was nearly time to give a performance on the floating palace, and about 100 people were aboard. The Sprague came down stream under a full head of steam, became unmanageable, and collided with the floating palace. Men and women jumped through the windows and escaped by other means. Several persons nearly lost their lives. Threats were made of lynching the captain of the Sprague, and several shots were fired at the boat.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

THE NICHOLS BOARDING HOUSE IN LITTLE'S ADDITION DAMAGED.

Fire was discovered in the kitchen in the rear of the boarding house of Mrs. E. B. Nichols, in Little's Addition, about 8 o'clock last night while the family was away attending the circus. Neighbors first saw the blaze and rushed to the rescue of furniture, getting a great deal of it out. The fire had gained good headway before the department, which was delayed by a switch engine at the union depot crossing, reached the scene, but the flames were quickly extinguished with the loss of only the kitchen and dining room and the roof of the building, most of the household goods being destroyed.

The house is a complete loss and will amount to about $1,000. The contents of the residence were insured for about $900 and Mrs. Nichols is unable to estimate the loss as she does not know exactly what was saved. The contents of two rooms downstairs were saved by William Flowers, baggeman at the I. C. depot, who kicked the door in soon after the fire was discovered, assisted by Mr. Barrick, the yardmaster, who was also near the depot when the alarm was sounded, and Mr. Dick LaRue of the Hiram Blow mill.

The residents of that section asked for a fire alarm box, but say it has not been placed there yet. The station was ordered by the council and board of aldermen some time ago. The residents will petition the council for another box placed nearer the center of the addition.

JUDGE PRATT'S OPINION.

HE GIVES ONE ON THE FILLING OF VACANCIES IN KENTUCKY THIS YEAR.

Frankfort, Sept. 6.—In a case from Edmonson county, Attorney General Clifton J. Pratt has given his opinion as to the filling of vacancies at the coming election in Kentucky, about which there seems to be considerable confusion on account of apparently conflicting provisions of the constitution. Judge Pratt's opinion is as to the election of police judges and magistrates to fill vacancies and he holds that elections to fill vacancies in these offices can be held this year only in towns and counties embraced in the appellate districts, in which judges of the court of appeals are to be elected; that in all other cases the appointees are to hold office until their successors are elected in November, 1903. The question came before the governor from Edmonson county.

TWO BICYCLES RECOVERED.

The night police found two bicycles last night, one on Broadway between Second and Third and the other near Fourth and Jefferson. One proved to be the property of a postal messenger boy and the other of Mr. Grantor, an installment man. Merchants' Police-man Presnell found one of them.

Paine's Celery Compound

Permanently Cures Sick and Nervous Headaches That Make Life Miserable.

Sick and nervous headaches are amongst the worst ills of life. The man or woman who is subject to headache at irregular intervals goes through life bearing a load of misery and wretchedness that is terrible to think of.

Headaches, as a rule, result from a disordered condition of the nervous system. Mental excitement, loss of sleep, bodily fatigue, and disordered digestion are exciting causes. When the brain becomes tired and debilitated the whole nervous system is weakened, and headaches result. If the liver is sluggish, the kidneys inactive and digestion deranged, headaches invariably follow. To cure and prevent headache the nervous system must be strengthened and vitalized. The most persistent cases of headache, nervous febleness and sleeplessness are permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound; it is the great reconstructant of the nervous system.

Mrs. Henry Westrick, St. Clair, Mich., tells of her release from suffering as follows:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and sick headache for a number of years. About every week I would have a bad spell of sick headache, but since I began using Paine's Celery Compound my dyspepsia is gone, and I do not have any more headaches. I feel better than I have for years."

DEVOURED BY WORMS.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

GOOD CROWD, GOOD SHOW.

MANY THOUSAND PEOPLE AT-TEND THE WALLACE CIRCUS.

Many thousand people attended the Wallace circus here yesterday. Many more would have attended had not the circus made short jumps, coming here from Princeton and going from here to Mayfield, thus keeping many people away from surrounding towns.

The show is one of the best ever seen here, if not the best. It is first class in every particular, and everything possible is done for the convenience of the public. All who attended the performance were vastly pleased with it.

21 YEARS A DYSPEPTIC.

R. H. Foster, 318 South Second street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia and indigestion for 21 years; tried many doctors without relief; recently I got a bottle of Herbine. One bottle cured me, I am now tapering off on the second. I have recommended it to my friends; it is curing them, too." 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

BURNED DURING HIS ABSENCE.

Jailer Jones of Benton, Marshall county, came to the city yesterday to attend the circus and last evening received a message that during his absence his house had burned.

RAISED FROM THE DEAD

C. W. Landis, "Porter" for the Oriental hotel, Chanute, Kansas, says: "I know what it was to suffer with neuralgia, 'dead I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment and I was 'raised from the dead.' I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposited' of my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am tellin' de truth too." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

INVITATIONS SENT OUT TO THE PARKERSBURG CONVENTION.

Invitations have been sent out by President John L. Vance and Secretary E. P. Wilson, of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, to all citizens of the valley and tributary country to attend the eighth annual meeting of that body, which is to be held at Parkersburg, W. Va., on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 11 and 12. The presence of a number of congressmen and army engineers has been secured for the meeting. The purpose of their presence is to frame up a river and harbor bill that will be presented to the next session of congress, advocating the necessity of the immediate building of a series of dams, as already planned.

Miss Anna Hayworth of Jackson, Tenn., and Miss Ruth Selig, of Decatur, Ill., who were here to attend the Lesh-Hart wedding, have returned home.

A FORMER PADU-

CAHAN IN ITALY.

Mrs. Pearl Buckner Cary of Dallas, Tex., who is now traveling in Europe, has given a charming description of Italy in a recent letter to relatives here, which will prove interesting reading to her many friends in her former home. Mrs. Cary writes delightfully of her travels and brings the scenes very vividly before one. She was one of the brightest, most sparkling of Paducah girls, and time has added depth and force to the girlhood brilliancy. Mrs. Cary sails for home this month.

Hotel Laurati, Rome.

August 15, 1902.

After leaving Florence we had an enchanting three days at Naples, Capri and Pompeii—the last proving intensely interesting because of recent excavations which have revealed, especially, one of the most charming homes I have ever seen, adorned with beautiful carved pillars, fountains, paintings, such as we moderns may well envy a civilization which probably dates back at least 2,000 years.

The temples, the baths, the theatres of Pompeii are wonderful in their ruins, and I certainly enjoyed our exploration. Vesuvius towers high beyond it, while Naples is exquisitely situated on the bay, an hour's ride by rail. Capri, the most enchanting of islands, washed by the Mediterranean, whose waters are of a blue too lovely for description, is situated on the side of a mountain, its quaint homes hanging close to the cliffs, its gardens fragrant with great masses of pink oleanders and lemon trees full of golden fruit—all picturesque beyond words, the favorite home of the artist and of the dreamer. But all Italy is that, you know, beauty, beauty everywhere, the very

"Garden of the world, the home
Of all art yields and nature can decree,

E'en in thy desert what is like to thee?

Thy very weeds are beautiful, thy waste

More rich than other climes' fertility;Thy wreck a glory, and thy ruins gracedWith an immaculate charm which cannot be defaced."

And this, the "Eternal City"—the great stage whereon such mighty parts have been played—well, it is more than beautiful; it is so intensely absorbing that one forgets one's own self and one's own selfish interests and is lost, plunged into the tragedy of the years, or in contemplation of the vast monuments of antiquity. The Forum, Coliseum, the palace of the Caesars, sublime even in their ruins, to the imaginative mind become repopulated with heroes from the past, and one can see the conqueror's chariot climbing, amid the applause of the multitude, to the Capitol; can behold Pompey and Antony, Brutus and Cassius, again threading the ways so loved by them; or, standing in the arena of the great Coliseum, hear the cries of the martyrs as they grapple in the last struggle with wild beasts; see the cruel passion of Nero as he leans from his canopied balcony above, giving the signal for slaughter!

After Imperial Rome comes the Rome of the Popes—and of St. Peter's is the sign of vast dominion and of power. Oh, to give you some idea of this most glorious church in Christendom! It is a golden triumph of art—inside, outside, a majestic dream of marble columns uplifting the vast dome of Michael Angelo! The sublimity of it is awful—one must worship on entering whether one is pagan or Christian; the soul bows before such divinity of beauty.

Today we had a long drive out to the splendid new church of St. Paul's, where the great apostle is buried; then on to the English cemetery, where I visited the graves of my beloved Shelley and Keats—so sadly neglected and desolate—and from Keats' grave I pulled this bit of green.

We came back over the Janiculum Hill, one of the seven, upon whose summit St. Peter was crucified—but which is now a lovely pleasure park, except the old church which marks the tragedy. We got quite a wonderful view of Rome, stretching for miles beneath us, its palaces, its towers, its bridges and churches gleaming in the clear Italian light—a picture well worth a journey across the world to see.

We are off for Switzerland in a few days.

DANCE AT LA BELLE PARK.

A very delightful dance was given at La Belle park pavilion on Tuesday evening by some of the members of the Cotillion club. The attendance was quite large and the occasion most pleasant.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands, Mrs. Harry Tandy of Frankfort, Miss Emma Reed, Elizabeth Sinnott, Laura Sanders, Minnie Terrell, Hattie Terrell, Ruth Weil, Henrietta Koger, Myrtle Decker, Kathleen Whitefield, Halie Hisey, Frances Terrell, Linnie Belle Tucker, of Louisville, Ruggles, Lillian Rudy, Mary Lee Clarke, May Owen, Louise Cox, Ethel Morrow, Ida Leake, Ethel Brooks, Helen Alcott, Lillie May Winstead, Martha Leech, Susanne Jorgenson, of Princeton; Lucy Leech, of Cape Girardeau, Messrs. Douglas Bagby, Stewart Sinnott, Rosee Reed, Arthur Everitt, Will Minchin, Glenn Smith, Thomas Harrison, Horace Sowell, George DuBois, T. L. Sanders, D. M. Flournoy, M. B. A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

A wedding of especial and prominent social interest was that of Miss Virginia Losh and Mr. George B. Hart on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. It was a pretty church wedding, simple but effective and the First Presbyterian church looked very charming for the occasion.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., in the presence of a large and representative audience. Prof. Harry Gilbert presided at the organ, rendering the wedding march and other selections with happy skill.

The bride wore a pretty gown of white Paris muslin and duchesse lace and carried bride roses.

The only attendants were the ushers: Messrs. Charles F. Rieke, Abram Weil, J. D. Moequot and Edson Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart left at 6:30 for a bridal trip north, and will be absent until October 1. When they return they will reside on West Jefferson street.

A PARTY DANCE

IN NASHVILLE

The Nashville Daily News gives the following account of a pretty party given by a young lady who visits Paducah and is a popular favorite in the younger society set:

"The opening dance of the coming season was given Tuesday evening by Miss Nell Parks in honor of Miss Margaret Douglas, of Franklin, the charming visitor of Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Wilson. The Parks home was most fittingly decorated, and elegant refreshments were served. The entire lower floor was a mass of roses and lilies of the valley, blended together, making a most beautiful effect."

The guest list was quite an extensive one.

SURPRISE MARRIAGE

IN ST. LOUIS.

A surprise marriage to their friends in Paducah, although it culminated a courtship of several years, was that of Miss Cora Williams and Mr. Andrew Clark of this city, which occurred in St. Louis on Tuesday night.

The bride left on Saturday for St. Louis. Mr. Clark, who is the popular bookkeeper for the L. B. Ogilvie Dry Goods company, joined her there on Tuesday and they were quietly married.

PLEASANT OCCASION.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vogt, who were married on Tuesday evening, were tendered a pleasant reception at their home on South Twelfth street on Thursday evening. A large crowd was present, and an elegant supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Vogt are very popular, and their marriage which was a very quiet one, was a surprise to many of their friends.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The Atlanta Constitution of Sunday last contained a picture of Miss Annie Lee Penn, of Danville, Va., and paid her the following tribute:

"Miss Annie Lee Penn is a belle of Danville, Va., daughter of Mr. James G. Penn, a prominent Virginia capitalist. Besides being endowed with many natural charms, Miss Penn has had opportunities and advantages that fall only to the few. She has just returned from Cold Sulphur Springs, where she was the recipient of many honors. She has had extensive foreign travel and has on a number of occasions visited in Atlanta."

Miss Penn was the popular visitor

PARTY TO CAIRO CARNIVAL.

Mr. Saunders A. Fowler was the host of a pleasant party to Cairo on Tuesday to attend the carnival. In it were: Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris, Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech, Mrs. John P. Campbell, Miss Lucie Leech, of Cape Girardeau, Miss Mabel Glenn of Kutawa, Misses Mattie Fowler, Martha Leech, Martha Davis, Messrs. Byron Whitesides, of New York, Stewart Allen of Knoxville, Tenn., and William Sanders.

INFORMAL AFFAIRS.

Society in an informal fashion has managed to have a very pleasant time this week. There have been theater parties, circus parties, and The Kentucky club has seen some social occasions, strictly informal. There have been one or two small card parties in visitors' honor, but all the entertaining is being done now on the quiet so it does the society column little good as a fill-up. However, Society has just as good a time.

U. D. C. MEET.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy held a pleasant meeting with Mrs. James Koger of Jefferson street on Tuesday morning. It was the first meeting since the early summer, but no business was transacted, many of the members still being out of the city. There will be another meeting with Mrs. James Koger, on Tuesday of next week, it being desirous to have a full vote on some important questions.

COTILLION CLUB REORGANIZE

The Paducah Cotillion club which had disbanded for the summer, was reorganized this week with the following officers: Mr. Thomas B. Hargrave, President; Mr. John Sherwin, vice president; Mr. Dow Wilcox, secretary and treasurer. The club will enter-of Mrs. George Flounoy here last spring.

Mrs. John J. Dorian, who has many friends in the city, has announced her intention of opening a select school this fall for pupils who wish to prepare for college, take special course in Latin, Greek, stenography, etc., or take the lower branches. As Miss Katie Mohan, Mrs. Dorian was one of the most successful teachers in Paducah's public schools and was principal of the High school here. She should fill a long felt want here.

Miss Mary Walker and Miss Evelyn Walker arrived this week from Dyersburg, Tenn., to make their home with their brother, Dr. Richard Walker. They will reside at 609 1-2 Broadway. The Misses Walker have several times visited here, and have made many friends, and will be agreeable additions to Paducah's social life.

Mrs. Albert Jackson Decker is ill at Chicago Beach and Mr. Decker left yesterday to accompany her home. She and Misses Myrtle and Helen Decker have been there for several weeks. Mrs. Decker's many friends here are hoping her illness is not serious.

Miss Lillian Belle Tucker of Louisville, is the guest of Captain J. E. Williamson's family on North Sixth street. Miss Tucker has visited here before and is very popular. She is en route home from the Michigan summer resorts.

Mrs. L. S. DuBois and daughter, Miss Myra DuBois arrived home this week from New York, where they have spent the summer. They were accompanied by Miss Bessie Seymour of New York City, who will visit them.

Mrs. A. B. Sowell and daughter, Miss Mary K. Sowell, have returned from a month's stay at Colorado Springs. They were accompanied

DAILY THOUGHT.

"To think continually of how we feel, how we look, how others regard us, whether we receive our proper shade of deference and attention, whether this one slighted, or that one looked down upon us, is to be too small to recognize the true grandeur of manhood or womanhood."

THE WEATHER.

Showers tonight. Sunday fair and cooler.

WE NEED THE IMPROVEMENTS.

The proposition to issue city bonds is receiving considerable attention from the people of Paducah, but a great many men of intelligence display a distressing ignorance on the subject. Some are heard every day to declare: "I am opposed to voting this $200,000 tax on the people." They are not to vote any "tax" on the people. This is where they make a serious mistake. They are to vote in favor or against the city issuing bonds, which will be sold and certain improvements made with the proceeds of the sale.

The interest on the bonds every year will amount to several thousand dollars, and this will have to be paid by the taxpayers, but it can be shown that the improvements will result in such a saving to the city, coupled with an increase in revenue, that the interest and sinking fund will easily be provided for without a cent of extra cost to the taxpayers.

It seems that there is only one way to obtain needed improvements in Paducah, and that is by a bond issue. It is generally conceded that Paducah needs better streets, a new city hospital, and one or more new market houses, if we are to have any market house at all. The Democrats keep the tax rate as high now as the people will tolerate, and their extravagance in various ways prevents there ever being sufficient money with which to make extensive improvements, hence the only solution to the problem of municipal improvement is by a bond issue.

Lexington is now agitating the question of better streets, and one of her councilmen recently went to Owensboro. The latter place is one of the best and most progressive cities in the state, and its beauty and modern appearance have been secured principally by improvements made by a bond issue.

The Lexington councilman was so favorably impressed with what he saw in Owensboro, that when he got home he made the following statement for the benefit of the somewhat slow and unprogressive people of his own city:

"I have just returned from Owensboro where I attended a convention and I was never so charmed with the appearance of a small town before. The streets are kept in a beautiful condition and they are so clean that you could sit down and play marbles on them without getting dust on your clothes. When I got back to Lexington and my eyes fell on the same old piles of dirt that infest the streets, the dust blowing in my eyes as I walked through them, and I thought of the amount of taxes paid, it occurred to me that Lexington could well afford to take a lesson from Owensboro and I want to see it done."

The above might also receive the thoughtful consideration of the people of Paducah.

The question of building a new market house is one that is being freely discussed, and it seems a strong sentiment is developing against a new one. The reason urged is that Paducah is getting too large for one market house, and that the location of the present market house is so far from the center of the populated districts that the people have gone to the groceries for marketing, and only comparatively a few go to the market house. This is only one argument, however. Another is that if the city is to issue bonds for a market house, or for the purpose of providing the public with adequate accommodations for doing their daily marketing, the city should have a house where the present one is, and two more smaller ones in other parts of the city. A great many people, owing to the extensiveness of the business now done with the groceries, are in favor of issuing no bonds whatever for a new market house, but prefer allowing the city to do with the market house she now has. It is not certain whether this part of the bond proposition will carry or not. The administration should make clear its plans at once, in order that people may understand fully what they are to vote on.

The Republican candidates for congress and court of appeals in this district. Hon. C. H. Linn, of Kuttawa, and Hon. P. H. Darby, of Princeton, are meeting with great encouragement in their respective races. They are scholarly gentlemen with strong followings, and make a good impression wherever they go. In addition to the men themselves being popular and highly esteemed, they stand for all that is highest and best in political principle. The Republican party has made and kept the country what it is, and to perpetuate prosperity we must continue the Republican party in power. The Republicans advocate and enforce, so far as can be enforced, what are acknowledged to be the best principles possible to formulate, and the people have for years attested their confidence in their sincerity, integrity and ability by keeping them in power, except once or twice when a departure from the time honored custom proved a most costly and disagreeable experience to the great American people, and one which the country will never repeat. Messrs. Linn and Darby are good men, and will make a good race in this district, although it has always been Democratic.

The couple who committed suicide and laid it on the trusts must have been bad off for an excuse. The trusts seem to become more and more important every day. After a while they will be the cause of every man's going to the asylum or the penitentiary, and will have proven of some use to humanity after all. We all like to have something to lay the blame on for our shortcomings or misfortunes, and should be glad the trusts fill the bill.

A year ago yesterday the late and greatly loved President William McKinley received the wound from which he shortly afterward died. Time flies, but his memory will always be revered, and he is now and will always be numbered among the greatest of our deceased statesmen.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Metropolis Herald, is to move into new quarters, and combine its daily and weekly editions.

MATTERS STRAIGHTENED OUT

The Bank Clearings Show a Slight Decrease in Paducah.

The Reports From All Branches of Business Are Most Encouraging Here.

GOOD SHOWING EVERYWHERE

Clearings this week $550,677

Same week last year 564,776

Decrease 14,099

The bank clearings show a slight decrease this week over the same week last year. Money is very active with big demands.

Business with the wholesale houses is very good and as the season advances grows better. The busiest place in the city to be found at present is the I. C. freight depot, and it is a very interesting sight to see with what dispatch and clock-like precision the huge business is run. A reporter for The Sun went through the warehouse yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the busiest time of the day, with the assistant agent, Mr. A. R. Meyers, and was surprised at the volume of business done and the ease with which it was accomplished. The loading and unloading of the cars is done on the same system used at all large shipping centers, and is a credit to the local management. On an average of 30 cars a day are loaded at the freight depot, and about the same number unloaded each day, giving an idea of the extent of the shipping, over one route, going out of Paducah. Mr. Meyers said last Tuesday was the biggest day in the history of the Paducah depot, but that every day was a strenuous one for the many employees.

The Sutherland Medicines Co. made some very large shipments of Pine Tar Honey this week, and according to the I. C. management hold the record for one day shipment made by a Paducah house. When the fact that there are over 80 jobbing concerns in the city, and that the aggregate jobbing business is $15,000,000 a year, is taken into consideration, this is a big thing. But the Sutherland Medicine Co. is doing "big things" this year. For one day two shipments amounted to nearly $30,000, and they have made as large shipments for several weeks with a huge booking of orders for immediate shipments on the books.

The business done by this concern is growing faster than any business in the city and is giving the town more advertising than any other two houses in the city. At present they have a force of fifteen men on the road, thirteen of them in new territory, and all doing a big business. Retail trade is opening up very satisfactory on fall goods with indications for a good season.

Work on the iron furnace to put it in shape is progressing very satisfactorily. C. H. Rieke and Sons are moving into the store next door to their establishment recently vacated by Harbo.

THE GILT ON THE GINGERBREAD.

On Monday night in the lecture room of Broadway Methodist church, Dr. Briggs will deliver a popular lecture on "The Gilt on the Gingerbread." There will be no charge for admission, but as usual a collection will be taken at the close for benevolent purposes.

U. D. C. MEETING.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock with Mrs. Victoria Thompson, Jefferson street, instead of Mrs. James Koger, as elsewhere announced. All the members are urged to attend, as there is business of importance, and the annual election of officers.

—Mr. W. H. Linton, trainmaster of the east end of the Louisville division, was in the city this morning on business. He left at noon with Mr. Daly and party.

A PADUCAH ARTIST.

MRS. GUS EDWARDS TO SHORTLY PREPARE AN EXHIBIT.

Mrs. Gus Edwards, the artist, will shortly make her annual exhibit, probably in the Ogilvie window. Mrs. Edwards made an exhibit last fall and has not had any work before the public since. She has prepared a number of designs in burnt wood and also has some excellent examples of china burning. One large vase worked in flowers is especially good and the work when placed on exhibition will undoubtedly attract much attention.

BILL POSTERS MEET.

SEVERAL FROM PADUCAH TO LEAVE FOR LOUISVILLE TOMORROW.

Messrs. Will H. Utterback and wife and Mr. Joe Everich, local bill posters, leave tomorrow for Louisville to attend a meeting of the State Bill Posters' Association, called for September 8 by President J. G. Burch, of Owensboro. The object is to make arrangements for entertaining the delegates of the Association of Bill Posters of the United States and Canada, which will hold its convention in Louisville next July. It is the intention of the Kentucky bill posters to give the visitors a reception in keeping with the reputation of the state, and they want to begin making arrangements as soon as possible.

EXPECTED TO BURST IN.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 6—Taylor Charleston, colored, was nanged for killing Will Hardy, also colored. He died professing religion, his prayer being that his dead mother might meet him in the "union depot" when he came "bursting into heaven."

Good-By to "Tipping."

After the lapse of some years, a fresh effort is now being made in Berlin to stamp out the system of tipping waiters at hotels and restaurants. An "Anti-Tip league" has been formed, the members of which bind themselves on joining never to give any tips whatever to waiters in cafes, restaurants or hotels, nor to the conductors of tram-cars and omnibuses. In case any remonstrance should be made by those accustomed to receive gratuities of this kind, they are to be advised to lodge a complaint with their employers and to demand an increase of wages from them.

Little Coal in Italy.

Italy has almost no coal of its own. The industrial revival which in the past few years has developed many factories at Genoa and other places along the coast has been fed by an unceasing stream of coal shipments from England supplemented by considerable supplies brought in by rail from Austria. Of course it is a great disadvantage to have to carry coal so far; and Italy is not helped out of her dilemma by water power, for, as most of her streams have a habit of drying up a part of the year, they can not be depended upon to keep the wheels of industry turning.

Progress in Porto Rico.

Porto Rico has a strong disposition to devote itself to practical matters. An automobile line for the benefit of tourists is making regular trips across the island from San Juan to Ponce. A plan is under consideration to place powerful automobiles, drawing trailers, on the same road, for freight purposes. Many fine roads are under construction in the island, and the slow bull carts hitherto used to carry freight will soon disappear.

Was Weak in Mathematics.

The Atlanta Constitution the other day received the following letter: "Sir, an Friend—Do the Carnage Berry books teach Mathematies to Outside your City? I want Onile Books on Mathematies, as I am all right on spellin an am a purty good Grammaticar, but Mathematies is one too Much for Me."

We will make an advance showing of fashionable

Fall Dress Goods

This display is an assemblage of the most popular weaves for the coming fall and winter. You are cordially invited to look over these new fall fabrics. We will start the season now with some very superior offerings and promise to save you money right along in prices and to otherwise be of service to you in your purchases.

We have made extensive purchases of new merchandise for every department in our Great Store. Each day for the next few weeks will be bringing us some of these new purchases. As they come we would be pleased to show them to you from time to time. We invite you to make this store your store and to feel that you are always perfectly welcome to all of its privileges.

Ladies Ready-to-Wear Garments

In advance of the coming season we want to tell you that we will have a dazzling display in every line of Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Garments. Take both Silk and Flannel Shirt Waists—richer by far in style, design and trimming combination than ever shown before. To see them will be to want them.

Take Ladies' Tailor Jackets—The involution in many of the styles are marvelously beautiful. Our showing will be large, with a dash of elegance here and there that will charm you to its liking—and, if you don't mind, to its purchase.

Take Skirts—Well, the showing will be large, the styles varied and the selling larger or we are no judge of good things at reasonable prices.

Millinery—To fail to tell you how that Mrs. Harbour has been ransacking the market, viewing every conceivable style, gathering the newest styles and designs buying the best, compounding ideas and preparing in every way to furnish you the most up-to-date millinery, would be an injustice to her and unfair to you. A great stock and a great business, an up-to-date line is her motto for the fall of 1902.

School Days and Boys' Clothing.

You can't afford to let your boy be shabby at school when you can buy clothes for him at our low prices. We had our fall school suits at 50c, knee pants built on stouter lines than usual and this will do for your boy to walk, run, jump, sit, play or climb in, if fit, style and price in addition to quality will interest you, kindly do us the favor and yourself the saving to inspect our boys' suits and knee pants.

Men's Pants.

You should see our new line of men's pants. Heavy wool and cotton mixed pants go in this sale at $1. $1.25 and $1.50 a pair. A guaranteed pant at $2, $2.50 and $3.50 a pair.

Shoe Department.

See our shoe window for great values in fine shoes. Join the procession of buyers, secure a pair of "The Uncle Sam Shoes." The shoe that rules the world and one that is as good as its name, guaranteed at $2, $2.50, $3 and $3.50 a pair. In ladies' shoes we are now in position to show you the strongest line we have ever had the pleasure of showing at $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3, and $3.50. Every pair guaranteed to give satisfaction.

School Shoes.

We have them of the right kind at the right prices. Low shoes at one-fourth to one-third off. Prices slaughtered on all low shoes and slippers, some go at cost, some far less than cost. If you want slippers we'll save you money.

LATE NEWS FROM LIVINGSTON

The Announcement of Hon. John K. Hendrick for Governor.

Talk of Litigation Over the Owen's Cave Property Near Smithland.

Smithland, Sept. 6—Hon. John K. Hendrick formally announced his candidacy for governor here last Monday afternoon at the opening of circuit court. It had been reported that he would open his campaign at either Mayfield or Bowling Green. He decided, however, to make the opening speech in his home county. There was a large crowd present and his masterly effort was listened to with profound attention.

The Courier is in receipt of a letter dated yesterday from the Grand Pierre Lead and Zinc Mining company, of Golconda, Ill., stating that they had just ordered the machinery for their mine, and that their property is no longer a "prospect," but contains three fine fissure veins of lead, zinc and fluor spar. The capital stock of this company is $750,000. Stockholders are Paducah and Golconda capitalists.

There is likely to be some litigation, if reports are true, over the ownership of the old silver mine on the Owen's Cave property. Judge T. A. Baker, of Louisville, now comes in as a claimant on the rich lead and claims the ownership of several hundred feet square adjacent to the old mine. The present owners are Paducah capitalists.

Deputy Sheriff O. H. Crace has resigned his position and will likely remove to Paducah, where he will accept a position with the Illinois Central.

SENT HOME FOR BURIAL.

DAN DOUGLAS' REMAINS SHIPPED TO INDIANA THIS MORNING.

Coroner Peal decided that Dan Douglas died from natural causes, in the band wagon of the Wallace circus yesterday morning. A. A. Douglas wired that the body be shipped to Monticello, Ind., the home of the deceased, at once, and inquiries were received from A. W. Douglas, La Junta, Colo., and W. U. Douglas of Monon, Ind., relative to the cause of death and disposition of the remains. The body was shipped to Monticello this morning.

Miss Mattie Ryan, formerly of this city, has gone to Nazareth to take the vows of a novice. Miss Mary Mohan left this week to accompany her to Nazareth.

SICK MADE WELL WEAK MADE STRONG

Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered
by Famous Doctor-Scientist That Cures Every Known Ailment.

Wonderful Cures Are Effected That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

THE REMEDY IS FREE TO ALL WHO SEND NAME AND ADDRESS.

After years of patient study and delving into the dusty record of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 2431 BALTES BUILDING, Fort Wayne, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has surely dis-

DR. JAMES WILLIAM KIDD.

covered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving balsam, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim, and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seem to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free to any one who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver,
kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all affections of the throat lungs, or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike, and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of, and the sure remedy for it will be sent you free by return mail.

FIRST IN TWENTY-SIX YEARS.

Constable Phil Hisey has returned from a two weeks' visit to his old home in the Valley of Virginia, which he had not visited for twenty-six years. He saw and visited while there the old house in which his grandfather lived 150 years ago, and brought home with him all that is left of his grandfather's clock, some old wooden wheels.

KIDNAPPED

THE ADVENTURES OF DAVID BALFOUR IN THE YEAR 1751

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

A man after the captain came, as was agreed, to one of the windows, and stood there in the rain, with his arm in a sling, and looking stern and pale and so old
that my heart smote me for having fired upon him.

Alan at once held a pistol in his face.
"Put that thing up!" said the captain.
"Have I not passed my word, sir, or do you seek to affront me?"

"Captain," said Alan, "I doubt your word is a breakable. Last night ye hanged and argle bargled like an apple wife, and then passed me your word, and gave me your hand to back it, and ye ken very well what was the upshot.
Be damned to your word!" says he.

"Well, well, sir," said the captain,
"ye'll get little good by swearing."
(And truly that was a fault of which the captain was quite wise.) "But we have other things to speak," he continued bitterly. "Ye've made a sore hash of my brig; I haven't hands enough left to work her, and my first officer (whom I could ill spare) has got your sword throughout his vitals, and passed without speech. There is nothing left me, sir, but to put back into the port of Glasgow after hands."

"No," continued Alan, "that'll nae do.
Ye'll just have to set me ashore as we agreed."

"Aye," said Hoseason, "but my first officer is dead—ye ken best how. There's none of the rest of us acquaint with this coast, sir, and it's one very dangerous ship to ships."

"Why," said I, "he is a man you should be proud to give your hand to."

"I know nothing I would help a Campbell
to," says he, "unless it was a leaden bullet.
I would hunt all of that name blackcocks.
If I lay dying, I would crawl upon my knees to my chamber
window for a shot at one."

"Why, Alan," I cried, "what ails ye at the Campbells?"

"Well," says he, "ye ken very well that I am an Appin Stewart, and the Campbells have long harried and wasted those of my name; aye, and got lands of us by treachery, but never with the sword," he cried loudly, and with the word brought down his fist upon the table. But I paid the less attention to this, for I knew it was usually said by those who have the underhand. "There's more than that," he continued, "and all in the same story; lying words, lying papers, trick-fit for a peddler, and the show of what's legal over all to make a man the more angry."

"You that are so wasteful of your buttons," said I, "I can hardly think you would be a good judge of business."

"Ah!" says he, falling again to smiling,
"I got my wastefulness from the same man
that was my poor father, Duncan Stewart, grace be to him! He was the prettiest man of his kindred, and the best swordsman in the highlands, David, and that is the same as to say in all the world, I should ken, for it was him that taught me. He was in the Black Watch when first it was mustered, and like other gentlemen privates had a gillie at his back to carry his firelock for him on the march. And that was the father that I had, God rest him."

"I think he was not the man to leave you rich," said I.

"And that's true," said Alan. "He left me my breeks to cover me and little besides. And that was how I came to enlist, which was a black spot upon my character at the best of times, and would still be a sore job for me if I fell among the redcoats."

"What!" cried I, "were you in the English army?"

"That was I," said Alan. "But I deserted to the right side at Prestonpans,
and that's some comfort."

I could scarcely share this view, holding desertion under arms for an unpardonable fault in honor. But for all I was so young I was wiser than say my thought. "Dear, dear," says I, "the punishment is death."

"Aye," he said, "if they got hands on me it would be a short shrift and a long tow for Alan! But I have the king of France's commission in my pocket,
which would ye be some protection."

"I misdoubt it much," said I.

"I have doubts myself," said Alan dryly.

"And, good heaven, man," cried I,
"you that are a condemned rebel, and a deserter, and a man of the French king's what tempts ye back into this country?
It's a braving of Providence."

"Tut," says Alan, "I have been back every year since forty-six!"

"And what brings ye, man?" cried I.

"Well, ye see, I weary for my friends and country," said he. "France is a braw place, nae doubt, but I weary for the heather and the deer. And then I have bit things that I attend to. While I pick up a few lads to serve the king of France; recruits, ye see, and that's aye a little money. But the heart of the matter is the business of my chief, Ardshead."

"I thought they called your chief Ap-pin," said I.

the great isle of Mull.

All day the breeze held in the same point and rather freshened than died down, and toward afternoon a swell began to set in from around the outer Hebrides. Our course to go round the inner isles was to the west of south, so that at first we had this swell upon our beam and were much rolled about. But after nightfall, when we had turned the end of Tiree and began to head more to the east the sea came right astern.

Meanwhile the early part of the day,
before the swell came up, was very pleasant,
sailing as we were in bright sunshine and with many mountainous islands upon different sides. Alan and I sat in the roundhouse with the doors open on each side (the wind being straight astern) and smoked a pipe or two of the captain's fine tobacco. It was at this time we heard each other's stories,
which was the more important to me.
As I gained some knowledge of that wild highland country on which I was soon to land. In those days, so close on the back of the great rebellion, it was needful a man should know what he was doing when he went upon the heather.

It was I that showed the example
telling him all my misfortune, which he heard with great good nature. Only
when I came to mention that good friend
of mine, Mr. Campbell, the minister,
Alan fired up and cried out that he
hated all that were of that name.

"Why," said I, "he is a man you
should be proud to give your hand to."

"I know nothing I would help a Campbell
to," says he, "unless it was a leaden bullet.
I would hunt all of that name blackcocks.
If I lay dying, I would crawl upon my knees to my chamber
window for a shot at one."

It was I that showed the example
telling him all my misfortune, which
he heard with great good nature. Only
when I came to mention that good friend
of mine, Mr. Campbell, the minister,
Alan fired up and cried out that he
hated all that were of that name.

"Why," said I, "he is a man you
should be proud to give your hand to."
